garbage
(noun) gar-bij

Rubbish, trash, material of no value, nonsense, household refuse, invalid data.

While the term garbage is increasingly used outside North America, the British put their household garbage or refuse in dustbins or wheelie bins, which are emptied by refuse collectors.

This face is a dog's snout sniffing for garbage

Walt Whitman, Faces in Leaves of Grass

Gaunt dogs were busy here amongst whom, unintimidated, stalked the carrion vulture disputing with the brutes the garbage

George Borrow, Bible in Spain, ch. 56
